W. T. Clever, special land agent for the Santa Fe, has been in Holbrook for a couple of days on business.

Miss Walkem of Los Angeles passed through Holbrook Thursday going to Pinetop. She is engaged to teach school at Woodland this winter.

The engagement of Miss Myrtle Zuck to Dr. Hough, an ethnologist at the Smithsonian Institute, is announced. Miss Zuck, whose home is in Holbrook, Ariz., has been a student of the university for the past two years, where she has many friends both among students and instructors. She was an earnest student and will be a power for good in whatever community her lot is cast. They will make their future home in Washington D. C. —Tucson Citizen.

We have received Nos. 1, 2 and 3 of the Arizona Trailer, published by Messrs. Bonney and Hunt at Safford, Graham county. We are green hands at newspaper work ourselves and no doubt do a great many things that our older brethren can make faces at us for, and feel shy about making any criticisms. From a cursory perusal of the editorials we are willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that it is a rank populist sheet, the mission of which is to root in every dung hill in the neighborhood, and no doubt its own door is almost obscured by the size of the of one it is supporting.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.
Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

TAYLOR NUGGETS.

SNOWFLAKE ITEMS.

What "Chico" Saw at Snowflake the Past Week.

SNOWFLAKE, Oct. 7, 1897

We apologize for not getting a letter off for the Argus last week, but must make some excuse all the same, and will say that it was because the paper came out so much larger than usual, that it took all our time to read it, and we forgot our letter.

Mr. Brookbank of Holbrook spent a day with us this week, and visited our schools.

Mr. Hopen of Linden came in today and purchased a load of supplies from Flake Bros.

Our farmers are spending these fine days, getting in their alfalfa, corn and cane, the last of which W. W. Willis is converting into molasses of fine quality.

Rogers Brothers expect to finish up the threshing in this place in a week.

P. J. Christofferson of Woodruff was seen on our streets this week.

Supervisor Willis is improving the looks of his place by putting up a new fence, while his neighbor, J. H. Frost, is building a new barn, helping out the looks of that part of town.

James M. Flake has been to Holbrook lately to look after the shipment of his wool, and says he realized good prices.

J. W. Freeman has purchased a fine bunch of calves which he expects to feed until spring and then put them on the market.

Lewis Hunt, Angus Willis and Chas. Gardner returned from Utah last week with a bunch of horses. A. L. Rogers also returned a few days since, after an absence of three months. He has been visiting friends near Salt Lake City.

WOODRUFF NOTES.

The Week's Happenings in This Quiet Little Village.

WOODRUFF, Oct. 7, 1897.

J. E. Norton, veterinary surgeon of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Arizona, was here inspecting a horse supposed to have the glanders. He pronounced it glanders and ordered the animal sent to horse heaven.

Mrs. Amelia Frost is all smiles now-a-days, because of the arrival of her mother, whom she has not seen for seventeen years. Her mother came from Denmark.

Eliza Wimmer, a little daughter of J. P. and Sarah F. Wimmer, was kicked by a horse but, sustained no serious injury.

Fay Gardner has been circulating in this quiet little village the last few days.

H. B. Gardner leaves for Snowflake to visit their school and get some new ideas on school economy.

Mr. J. Y. Lee and Miss Jessie Fish were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th.

The young people of Woodruff held a contest in peach cutting a few days since. They chose up sides and the female portion proved themselves the winners, and the other side gave a hop Friday in consequence.

HEBER NEWS.

The Movements of The People for the Past Week.

HEBER, Oct. 7, 1897.

Miss Mollie Baca visited Heber yesterday, returning to her home in the evening, and was accompanied as far as Wilford by Misses Lizzie Shelly, Eliza Porter and Mary Penrod.

Messrs. Messenger and Hopper came from Holbrook Saturday. They appeared to enjoy themselves and were trying to make others happy also.

H. J. Ramer passed through today with a lot of cattle en route for Holbrook, where he expects to make a heavy shipment.

Farmers are nearly done gathering the corn crops. Some are planting fall grain.

Mr. Sam Sharp visited Heber today.

MONA.

PRaise SERVICE.

The Praise Service which was given in the school house in this place on Wednesday evening was an unqualified success, notwithstanding an earlier date had to be set than that first agreed upon, which deprived the chorus of two rehearsals.

Rev. P. A. Simpkins of Gallup delivered a short address; and his plea for the Sunday School was a particularly happy one, calling out the generous donation of $12.50 from the audience.

The committee desire to thank those who assisted in singing, for the cheerful help they gave both in chorus and solo work, and the interest manifested in making the Service a pleasing and impressive one to all.
